..... Referring to the work of V. Bielyi, we note that we are talking about the formation of productive thinking, since "... it is time to understand that the technological system "first I tell, demonstrate, etc. to students, and then they do the same to me" is a primitive, archaic scheme because in life there will be no such "first and then...": our students are expected to interact with people who will expect specific abilities from them" [2, p. 26].
